AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

County Defendants incorporate herein the admissions, denials, and allegations set forth above.

24.

FIRST AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

For further answer and first affirmative defense, to the extent Plaintiffs asserted claims against County Defendants under 42 U.S.C. § 1983, the rights of which Plaintiffs allege Juan Anthony Sancho was deprived were not clearly established and/or violated in bad faith, and thus, County Defendants have qualified immunity from damages arising from such claims and with respect to any litigation involving such claims.

SECOND AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

For further answer and second affirmative defense, County Defendants are entitled to statutory immunity pursuant to ORS 30.265(5) to the extent Plaintiffs asserted claims which arise from an act or omission of an officer, employee or agent of Jackson County, when such officer, employee or agent was immune from liability.

26.

THIRD AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

For further answer and third affirmative defense, County Defendants are entitled to statutory immunity pursuant to ORS 30.265(6) to the extent Plaintiffs asserted claims based upon the performance of or the failure to exercise or perform a discretionary function or duty.

27.

FOURTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

For further answer and fourth affirmative defense, County Defendants' liability to Plaintiffs is limited by ORS 30.260 to 30.300.

28.

FIFTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

For further answer and fifth affirmative defense, County Defendants allege that Plaintiff's complaint fails to state sufficient facts upon which relief can be granted and fails to state sufficient facts to constitute any claim against Jackson County, David Dalton, Brady Bjorklund, Michael Hammond, and DOES 1 through 10.

29.

SIXTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

For further answer and sixth affirmative defense, County Defendants allege that Deputy Dalton's, Deputy Bjorklund's, Deputy Hammond's, and Does 1 through 10's use of force was justified and reasonable under the circumstances.

30.

SEVENTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

For further answer and seventh affirmative defense, County Defendants allege that Deputy Dalton's, Deputy Bjorklund's, Deputy Hammond's, and Does 1 through 10's use of force was reasonably believed to be necessary to defend the deputies, and/or a third person from the use or imminent use of physical force, and/or damage to county property, and/or pursuant to ORS 161.267 and/or ORS 161.205.

31.

EIGHTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

For further answer and eighth affirmative defense, County Defendants reserve all defenses arising from provisions of the Prison Litigation Reform Act (PLRA), including the provision requiring exhaustion of administrative remedies to plaintiff's claims. Upon completion of discovery in this case, Defendants may yield on this affirmative defense if evidence establishes that Plaintiff complied with the requirements of the PLRA.

NINTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

For further answer and ninth affirmative defense, to the extent Plaintiffs asserted claims against County Defendants under a theory of negligence, Juan Anthony Sancho was contributorily and comparatively negligent, Plaintiffs are not entitled to recovery from County Defendants, and to the extent they are entitled to a recovery from County Defendants that amount is subject to reduction. Any injury suffered by Juan Anthony Sancho and Plaintiffs was caused by Juan Anthony Sancho's own negligence in one or more of the following particulars:

- A. In failing to follow the instructions of Ashland law enforcement officers;
- B. In resisting arrest by Ashland law enforcement officers;
- C. In failing to follow the instructions of jail deputies;
- D. In slipping his handcuffs from back to front;
- E. In striking jail property, including a window, with his handcuffs; and
- F. In his degree of intoxication in public, refusal to comply with ORS 430.399, and disorderly conduct per ORS 166.025(1)(d)

33.

TENTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

For further answer and tenth affirmative defense, Plaintiffs' alleged damages, if any, were caused in whole or in part by the acts and omissions of third parties over whom County Defendants had no control.

34.

ELEVENTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

For further answer and eleventh affirmative defense, any damages suffered by Plaintiffs were not the direct and proximate result of County Defendants' actions.

35.

TWELFTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

For further answer and twelfth affirmative defense, County Defendants allege that any recovery on the complaint is barred by the doctrine of unclean hands. This includes, but is not limited to, interference with a peace officer, and/or disrupting order and discipline in a correctional institution. _

36.

THIRTEENTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

For further answer and thirteenth affirmative defense, County Defendants allege that under the Oregon Torts Claim Act there was justification, or privilege allowing, for any use of force in all claims for assault, battery, intentional infliction of emotional distress, and negligence.

37.

FOURTEENTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

For further answer and fourteenth affirmative defense, County Defendants allege that Plaintiff's damages, if any, were caused by and contributed to by his failure to mitigate those damages.

38.

County Defendants cannot fully anticipate all the affirmative defenses that may be applicable to this action, and accordingly reserve the right to assert additional affirmative defenses as the discovery and investigation proceeds.

39.

To the extent that any allegations in Plaintiff's Complaint are not addressed above, they are denied.

40.

WHEREFORE, having fully answered Plaintiffs' Complaint, County Defendants respectfully pray that judgment be entered in their favor and that they receive an award of their costs, disbursements, and attorney's fees incurred herein.
